

Miroslava Gojnić Dugalić, born 1968, Serbia, doctor of medicine, specialist in gynecology and obstetrics, subspecialist in perinatology – managing pregnancy, Head of the largest and oldest department that manages pregnant women of the Clinic for Gynecology and Obstetrics - University Clinical Center of Serbia, thirty years of experience. Training in clinical practice at the clinics of the University and Clinical Centers of Kiel, London, Bonn, Perugia, Rome... lectures held by invitation at world gatherings in Washington, St. Petersburg, Chile, Perugia, Rome, London, Barcelona, Athens, Warsaw, Skopje, Podgorica, Budva , Banja Luka, Slovenia...

Full professor at the Faculty of Medicine in Belgrade. Lecturer by invitation on world universities at congresses and courses, author of numerous scientific papers, mentorship of physicians in specializations, mentor of doctoral theses as well as professional and scientific training. Impact factors high, author of chapters in textbooks of gynecology and obstetrics at the Medical Faculty in Belgrade, author of foreign professional textbooks. Author of several textbooks in the field of gynecology and obstetrics, especially in the field of pregnancy management, accepted and supported by the Faculty of Medicine as a means of education physicians in specializations and narrow professional specializations.

She specializes in gynecology, early detection of problems related to the existence of infections, detection of changes in the ovaries, uterus, cervix, prevention of complications of existing diseases. Subspecialist in perinatology, modern pregnancy managing. Timely detection danger of miscarriage, balancing therapies, maintaining the quality of life of women and families during pregnancy. Prevention of complications during pregnancy, in the mother and in the fetus. Early detection of pathological conditions of the fetus, diagnostics, monitoring. Improving the quality of intrauterine conditions for fetal and placental development. Enabling the maximum quality of expression of fetal genetic capacities to be provided within the limits provided by perinatology. Ensure a healthy pregnancy, even when maternal disease is present, and prevent further progression of maternal diseases. Insight into the aspects to the extent that the perinatologist reduces the later complications that fetus, as a neonatus-baby, could have if the pregnancy is not monitored precisely and with quality.

Special expert analysis of pregnancy, prevention of all complications in both mother and fetus, successful provision of a healthy baby. In addition, not allowing the later development of the child to have complications that arose while developing in pregnancy, and which are seen only in the later psychomotor development of the child, schooling. Preventing abortions, discovering the causes of early births. Healthy offspring and the results of specific practices that show healthy children even in a body weight of 650 g ... Ensuring pregnancy in conditions when women suffering disease, with previously adequate preparation of the woman's body.

In addition to consultative ultrasonographic examinations, interpretation of Doppler flow analysis, in relation to a complete gynecological examination, colposcopy as well as breast ultrasonographic examination. Complete analysis of the state of the organism with respect to the protocol, but obligatory individual approach to the patient. Breast examination before implant application, as well as continuous monitoring after cosmetic surgery.

In particular, analysing causes of partner sterility, finding the root causes of the problem, without uniformity and globalization of the problem, in order to achieve the desired goal of the partner.

Prevention of early menopause, without global-uniform inclusion of hormonal therapy, in case of need, application of therapy that will not have side effects on other organs. In menopause, raising the quality of the general state of life, from the cardiovascular and skeletal system, through the daily night rhythm, intellectual work, functioning, emotions, quality of sexology.

Access to young people in the first stages of reproductive life, providing adequate contraception subordinated to the individual's body, in order to avoid the side effects of contraception on the psychological, emotional, aesthetic aspect of the individual. Regulating the hormonal axis, respecting the principles of nature, avoiding the complications of hormonal therapy.

Raising the quality of life, access to sexology with full respect for intimacy and the right approach to maintain medical secrecy. Medical approach in raising quality, while maintaining the health of the individual.

President of the Mediterranean Association for High-Risk Pregnancies, Diabetes and Hypertension, organizer of congresses and symposiums, as well as continuous education of physicians in Serbia, Montenegro, Republika Srpska, Macedonia. Presenting the results of our clinical practice at World Meetings and Congresses. General Secretary of the Association of Gynecologists and Obstetricians of Serbia, Montenegro, Republika Srpska.